Be The Best.

WHAT ARE MY RESPONSIBILITIES?

Answer this question, then "choose" to live your work life according to these guiding principles.

SET SMALL DAILY GOALS TO ACHIEVE BIG SUCCESS!

While most believe that having a long-term goal is crucial to success, successful people understand that without small, daily goals, you will get demotivated easily; success will in turn become hard.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Our guiding principles provide us with the guidance to achieve the highest standards of productivity, fulfillment and success.

This is a ground-level view of our cultural roadmap. This is how we operate. This is what shapes our actions, our interactions, and our daily work.

Do the right thing.

We will always choose to do the right thing, even when shortcuts may seem easier.

Put others first.

We reach our goals by helping those around us reach theirs.

We understand the necessity of healthy profits, and we are relentless about maximizing the sustainable, long-term growth of our company.

Work with passion.

We take pride in aggressively pursuing excellence, and we wholeheartedly believe in what we do.

Always do your best.

We are never satisfied with being good, and we will always strive to be the best.

Enjoy your work.

We surround ourselves with great people, and we find joy in helping each other become personally and professionally fulfilled.

1.5 PERSONAL ACCOUNTABILITY

Be The Best.

ARE YOU HOLDING YOURSELF ACCOUNTABLE?

Personal accountability will transform a really good company into a really great one...an exceptional one that can be the very best!

PERSONAL ACCOUNTABILITY

Simply stated, organizational culture is the way our teams think and act.

Our culture is one of personal accountability, and our thoughts and actions are guided by this mantra:
See it. Own it. Solve it. Do it.

See It.

Obtain the perspective of others; open and candid; asking for and offering feedback; hearing the hard things to openly see the reality of the situation.

Own It.

Being personally invested; learning from success and failures; ensure work is aligned with key results; acting on feedback that is received.

Solve It.

Continuous improvement; collaborating cross-functionally; creatively dealing with obstacles; taking appropriate and necessary risk.

Do It.

Doing what we say we will do; not blaming others; tracking progress with proactive and transparent reporting; building a culture of trust.

1.6 COMPLIANCE COMMITTEE

Tone-at-the-Top

AN EFFECTIVE COMPLIANCE PROGRAM

The compliance committee promotes a corporate culture that rewards the highest ethical standards of business conduct and a commitment to compliance with the law.

SETTING THE RIGHT EXAMPLE

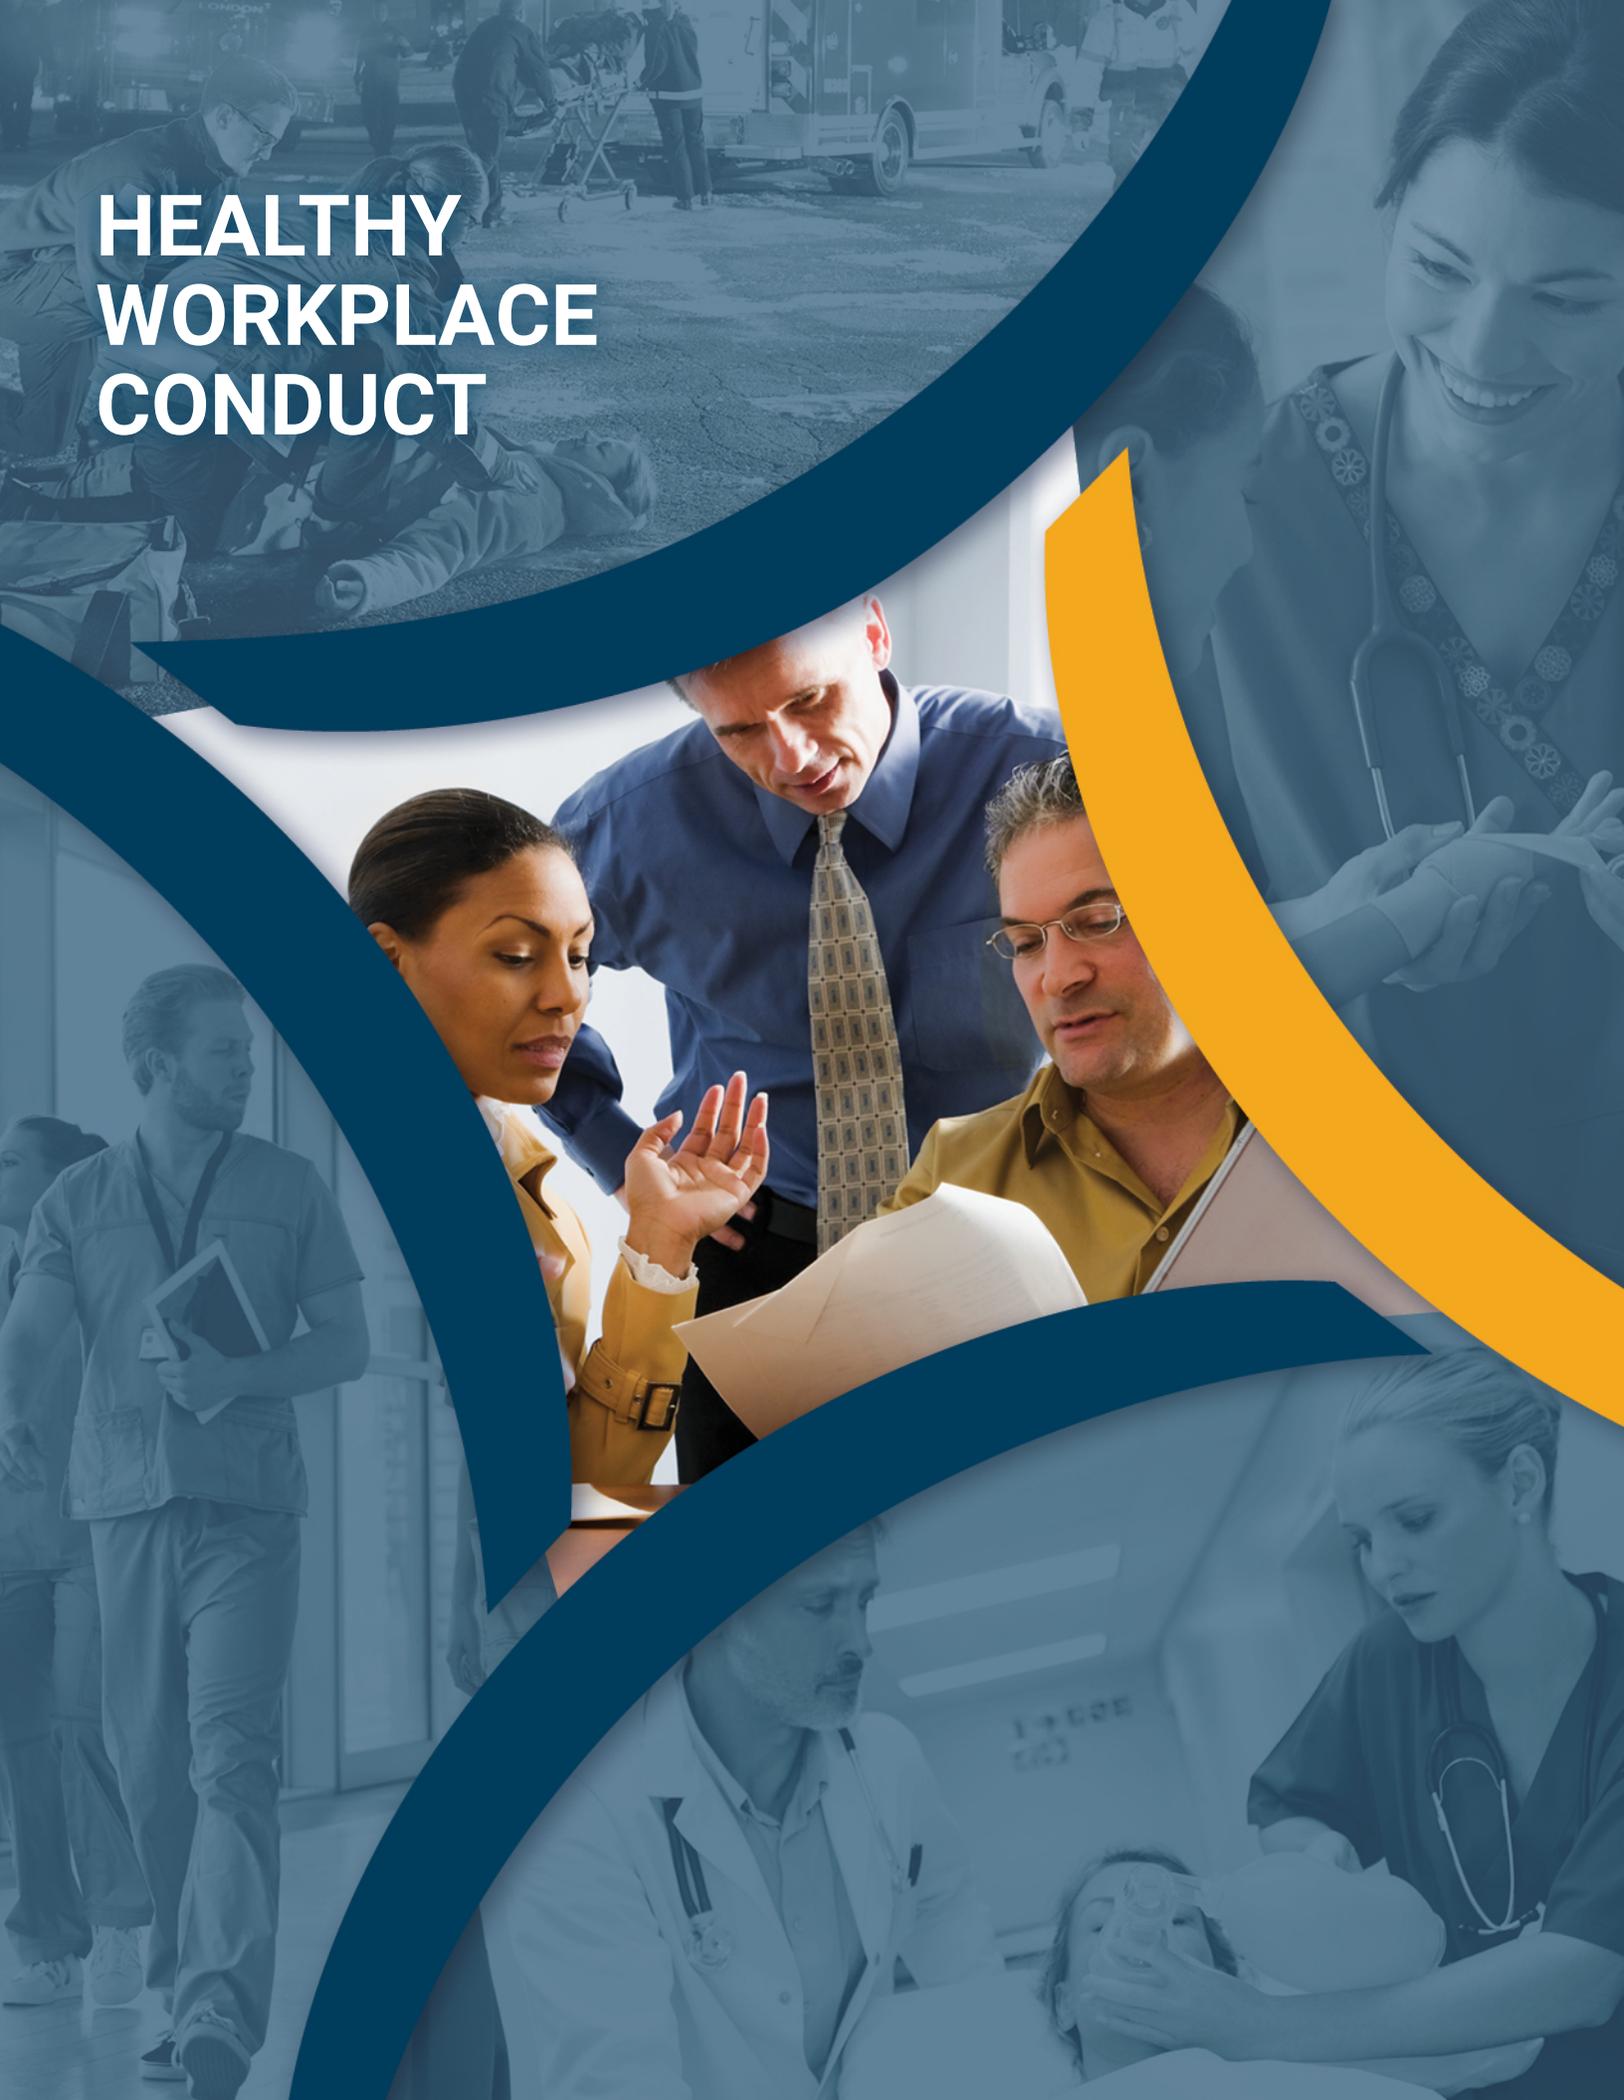

The Board of Directors is committed to creating a culture that values inclusion, safety and respect, which in effect will promote legal and ethical conduct. As critical steps towards realizing these goals, the Board of Directors has approved this code of ethics and has commissioned the creation of the compliance committee.

To foster a positive and productive workplace culture, the compliance committee, comprised of the CEO, COO and VP of HR, is focused on supporting and ensuring the implementation of the corporate compliance program. The compliance committee will meet no less than annually to:

- Identify legal requirements that affect the company.
- Identify areas of risk.
- Assess policies for inclusion in the corporate compliance program.
- Direct the creation of policies and procedures to promote compliance with legal and ethical standards.
- Recommend and monitor the development of internal controls and systems to carry out standards, policies and procedures as part of day to day operations.
- Determine strategies to promote compliance and detect violations.
- Review internal audits and investigations to identify problems and implement preventative and/or corrective actions.
- Evaluate the overall performance of the corporate compliance program and Regulatory Department.

All managers are expected to support this culture by motivating employees to be "The Best". By setting the right example and leading without intimidation, employees will be encouraged to report concerns and potential violations without the fear of retaliation.

HEALTHY WORKPLACE CONDUCT

2.1

INCLUSION AND NONDISCRIMINATION Build Respect.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT.

- Derogatory jokes or gestures.
- Physical or verbal conduct of a sexual, racist or defamatory nature.
- Intimidating or aggressive acts.
- Inappropriate humor.
- Communicating or displaying offensive material in the workplace.

Breaches of this policy should be reported to HR. Disciplinary action up to up to and including termination will be considered in response to the misconduct described above.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE

DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE

Sarnova is a drug-free workplace and requires all employees to report to work without any alcohol, or illegal, mind altering, or unauthorized controlled substances in their systems.

Employees should not come to work or perform any of their job duties while under the influence of any substance that impairs or may reasonably be expected to impair their ability to work safely in the workplace.

In limited circumstances, Sarnova may permit the consumption of alcohol at certain corporate sponsored events. However, never consume alcohol while operating equipment or conducting your daily work.

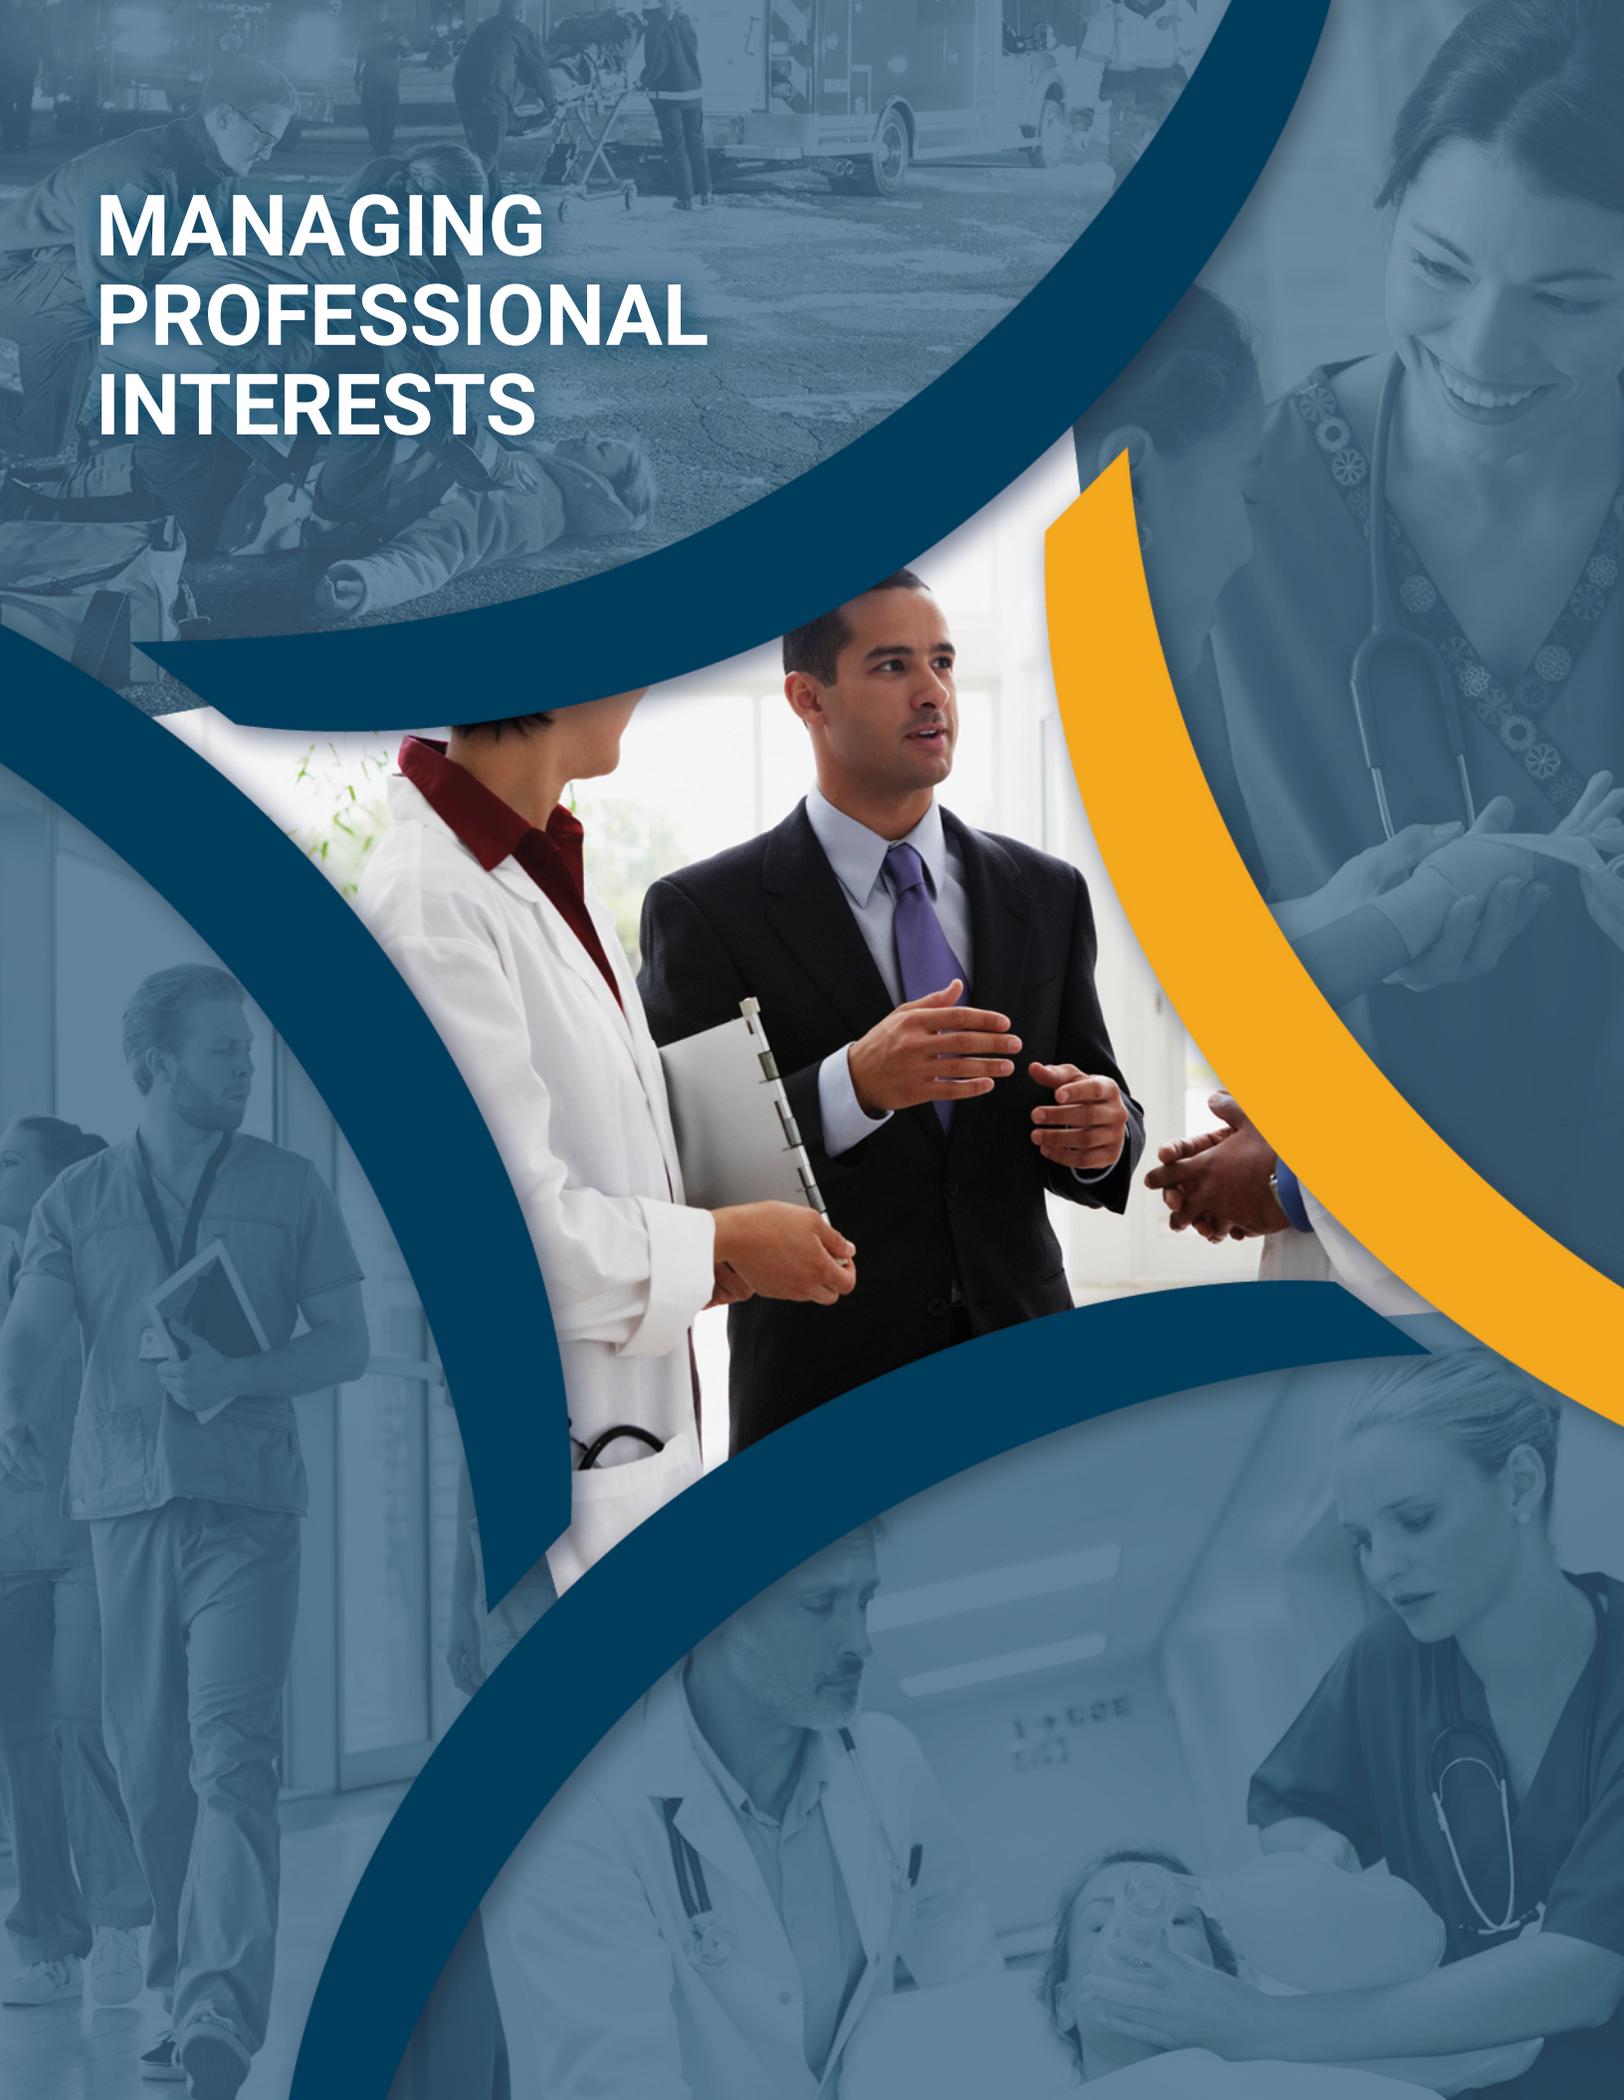

What substances are examples of substances that may impair your ability to work safely?

Answer: Illegal drugs, look-alike drugs and designer drugs are designed to impair your senses and are prohibited on company premises. Controlled substances and other prescribed or over-the-counter substances could impair your judgment. Please consult with your pharmacist or physician to determine if the legal drugs you are taking may impair your ability to operate equipment or perform your regular duties at work.

Can drug abuse or misuse outside the workplace affect my employment?

Answer: Yes! Outside conduct that affects an employee's work or an employee's relationship with other employees or the public, or which reflects badly on Sarnova, including the use, possession or sale of illegal or unauthorized controlled substances, is prohibited.

MANAGING PROFESSIONAL INTERESTS

3.1 CONFLICTS

Are you conflicted?

ASK YOURSELF THIS QUESTION:

"Is the action I'm considering going to create an incentive for me, or appear to others to create an incentive for me, to benefit myself, my friends or family, or an associated business at the expense of Sarnova.?"

If the answer is "yes," the action you're considering will likely create a conflict of interest situation, and you should avoid it.

CONSULT WITH REGULATORY.

Before pursuing a potential conflict, complete a conflict of interest form and ask Legal to make a determination whether a conflict of interest actually exists.

CONFLICTS

BOTH AT WORK AND IN YOUR FREE TIME, YOU SHOULD AVOID CONFLICT WITH YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES TO THE COMPANY.

All of us should avoid conflicts of interest and circumstances that tempt us to place our own interests or the interests of a third-party before Sarnova.

Conflicts of interest can occur in a variety of ways, however, the following situations can often produce conflicts of interest and should be carefully considered before proceeding:

- Doing business with family or close friends.
- Making charitable contributions on behalf of the company to a charitable organization affiliated with or recommended by a current or prospective customer or supplier.
- Hiring consultants, agents and other third parties with whom you have a personal relationship.
- Pursuing employment with a customer, vendor or supplier.

3.2 BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

Avoid unfair dealing.

Legal and Regulatory have the answers!

In all these situations, the rule is the same - if you haven't talked to Legal and are considering hiring or entering into a business relationship that involves a healthcare provider or government official, don't.

Changing circumstances?

Did one of your employees just marry the son of her greatest customer?

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

HONEST AND FAIR DEALING

We hire "The Best" individuals to help us create the best financial impact for Sarnova. We don't hire "the connected" to facilitate deals that sacrifice performance or profits.

Every employee is expected to deal honestly with our customers, vendors, competitors and fellow employees. Advantages obtained through manipulation, concealment, abuse of privileged information, misrepresentation of material facts or any other unfair-dealing practices should be uniformly avoided.

Do not engage in relationships and dealings with healthcare providers or government officials that confer benefits to the healthcare providers or government officials that could be perceived as a bribe. The scope of the value transferred or the benefit conferred should appear clearly in a contract or purchase order. For example, do not:

- Hire or contract with any immediate family member of a healthcare provider or government official to influence the healthcare provider or government official to use or buy our products or services or to obtain or retain business.
- Have any commercial dealings outside the business of the company with any healthcare provider, government official, entity or organization that is owned or controlled by a healthcare provider, government official or an immediate family member of an healthcare provider or government official.

3.3 ANTI-CORRUPTION AND BRIBERY

Compete fairly.

Do you sell to a Teaching Hospital?

Be sure to report payments, ownership, investment interests and other transfers of value to physicians and teaching hospitals to Regulatory.

Bribery may be occurring if...

You are in the practice of:

- (1) offering, giving, receiving or soliciting
- (2) directly or indirectly
- (3) anything of value
- (4) to influence improperly the actions
- (5) of another party

ANTI-CORRUPTION AND BRIBERY

IMPROPER PAYMENTS

Receiving or requesting improper payments of any kind from a healthcare professional, government official or any other person is prohibited.

What is an Improper Payment?

Answer: Any financial payment or benefit offered or made to obtain or retain business or to gain an advantage unavailable by competitive means.

REMEMBER, an improper payment can include any of the of the following:

- bribes
- kickbacks
- gifts
- donations
- grants
- hospitality
- meals
- commissions

Cultural traditions or other laws and regulations do not supersede this code.

- Even if improper payments may be seen by some as accepted business practice, DO NOT engage in such activity.
- Facilitating payments of any amount are prohibited.
- Engaging a third-party to complete an improper payment on your behalf is still prohibited.

3.4 MEALS

Not a bargaining tool.

Is the meal intended to induce action?

You should not pay for any meal if doing so will obligate, appear to obligate or is intended to obligate or unduly influence the behavior or decision making of the healthcare provider, government official or other individual.

MEALS

DRINKS AND REFRESHMENTS

You may provide a meal as a courtesy while conducting business, as long as you abide by the company's per diem limits and keep some basic guidelines in mind. For example, never provide meals to anyone if the intent of the meal is to induce action or gain or retain business. The meal should be only nourishment to continue work and incidental to productive business.

Regardless of intent, a meal should not bear any appearance of an intent to induce an action. To avoid the appearance of an inducement keep the meal:

- Modest in value.
- Not a routine expense.
- Apart from any entertainment or recreational event.
- Shared in a setting conducive to achieve a business goal.

Other meals to avoid paying for include those:

- For an entire office staff when only a few individuals are necessary participants in the business meeting.
- For guests of any healthcare providers or government officials.
- Meals you or someone from the company will not attend.

For guidance on meals you may organize or attend for business, consult with the compliance manager in the regulatory department.

3.5 GIFTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

Compete with integrity.

What about discounts and rebates?

Employees may not offer or provide anything of value to a customer in exchange for purchasing, recommending or arranging for the purchase of products or for a commitment to continue to purchase products or services.

You may NOT gift an iPad with the latest edition of "Emergency Medical Services: Clinical Practice and Systems Oversight."

GIFTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

ACCEPTING OR SOLICITING ITEMS OR EXPERIENCES OF VALUE

Sarnova employees are strictly prohibited from accepting or soliciting any type of gift, gratuity, favor, entertainment, reward, etc., from a vendor of medical products or from a customer. Similarly, Sarnova employees may not give healthcare providers any type of non-educational branded promotional items, even if the item is of minimal value and related to the healthcare providers work or for the benefit of patients.

ACCEPTING GIFTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

Industry Rule: Accepting gifts or entertainment from anyone in the medical industry including government officials is not permitted.

Be Careful: Gifts, entertainment, and other courtesies from a healthcare provider, government official, competitor, vendor or customer create a conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict of interest.

What about non-medical vendors? Generally, acceptance of inexpensive "token" non-cash gifts from vendors not related to the medical products industry is permissible.

GIVING GIFTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

Industry Rule: Unless an item is educational, gift-giving is prohibited. Similarly, providing entertainment such as golf outings or vacations is also strictly prohibited.

What items are educational?

- The item must benefit patients or serve a genuine educational function.
- Be incapable of non-educational functions.
- Not exceed $100 in value.

NEVER give anything of value to government officials to influence official action or to secure an advantage.

3.6 ANTI-TRUST

Compete with integrity.

ANTI-COMPETITIVE CONVERSATIONS:

If a competitor or a customer tries to discuss subjects with you that raise concerns about anti-competitive conduct, you should refuse to do so and ask the person to stop immediately. If necessary, you should leave or otherwise terminate the conversation and promptly report the matter to the Legal Department.

ANTI-TRUST

PROMOTE MARKETPLACE COMPETITION.

Anti-trust laws prohibit agreements or arrangements between competitors that affect fair competition. Avoid discussing sales practices, contract terms or marketing strategies with a competitor as such conversations could be construed as anti-competitive.

Situations with competitors you should avoid:

- Discussing any conditions, discounts, promotions or pricing information related to a bid.
- Agreements to set specific pricing or even minimums or maximums.
- Arrangements that award bids or contracts based who is the "next in line."
- Allocating market share or specific customers to competitors.
- Fixing pricing or conditions for sale or resale.

Competitive practices to avoid:

- Drawing a distinction between our product and those of our competitors without a factual basis to do so.
- Manipulating, concealing or abusing privileged information to gain an advantage over a competitor.
- Misrepresenting materials facts.

3.7 POLITICAL AND CHARITABLE DONATIONS

Giving responsibly.

It's probably not charity if it contributes to our bottom line.

Grants or Donations should not be connected with any past, present or future purchases of our products or services.

Charity is its own reward, and should not be used to encourage any customer to conduct business or provide service.

POLITICAL AND CHARITABLE DONATIONS

POLITICAL AND CHARITABLE GIVING

The company may make contributions or donations for political, educational, charitable or humanitarian purposes in line with all applicable domestic and international laws and regulations:

DONATE IF

- The donation is directly to a bona fide charitable organization or government agency as part of a charitable effort or to promote goodwill.
- There is no expectation that the donation is given in exchange for any return favor or business advantage from the charity or government (quid pro quo).
- The donation is not made directly to an individual government official, and there is no indication that the donation will be redirected to an individual official's personal use.
- The donation is infrequent and reasonable in amount under the circumstances.

Donations to private charities should not be made in the name of a government official, as a donation to an official's favorite charity could be viewed as a bribe.

Before making any donation, always seek approval from the compliance manager in the regulatory department.

This policy is not intended to discourage personal political and civic participation outside of work.

3.8 INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Sales and Shipping Restrictions.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

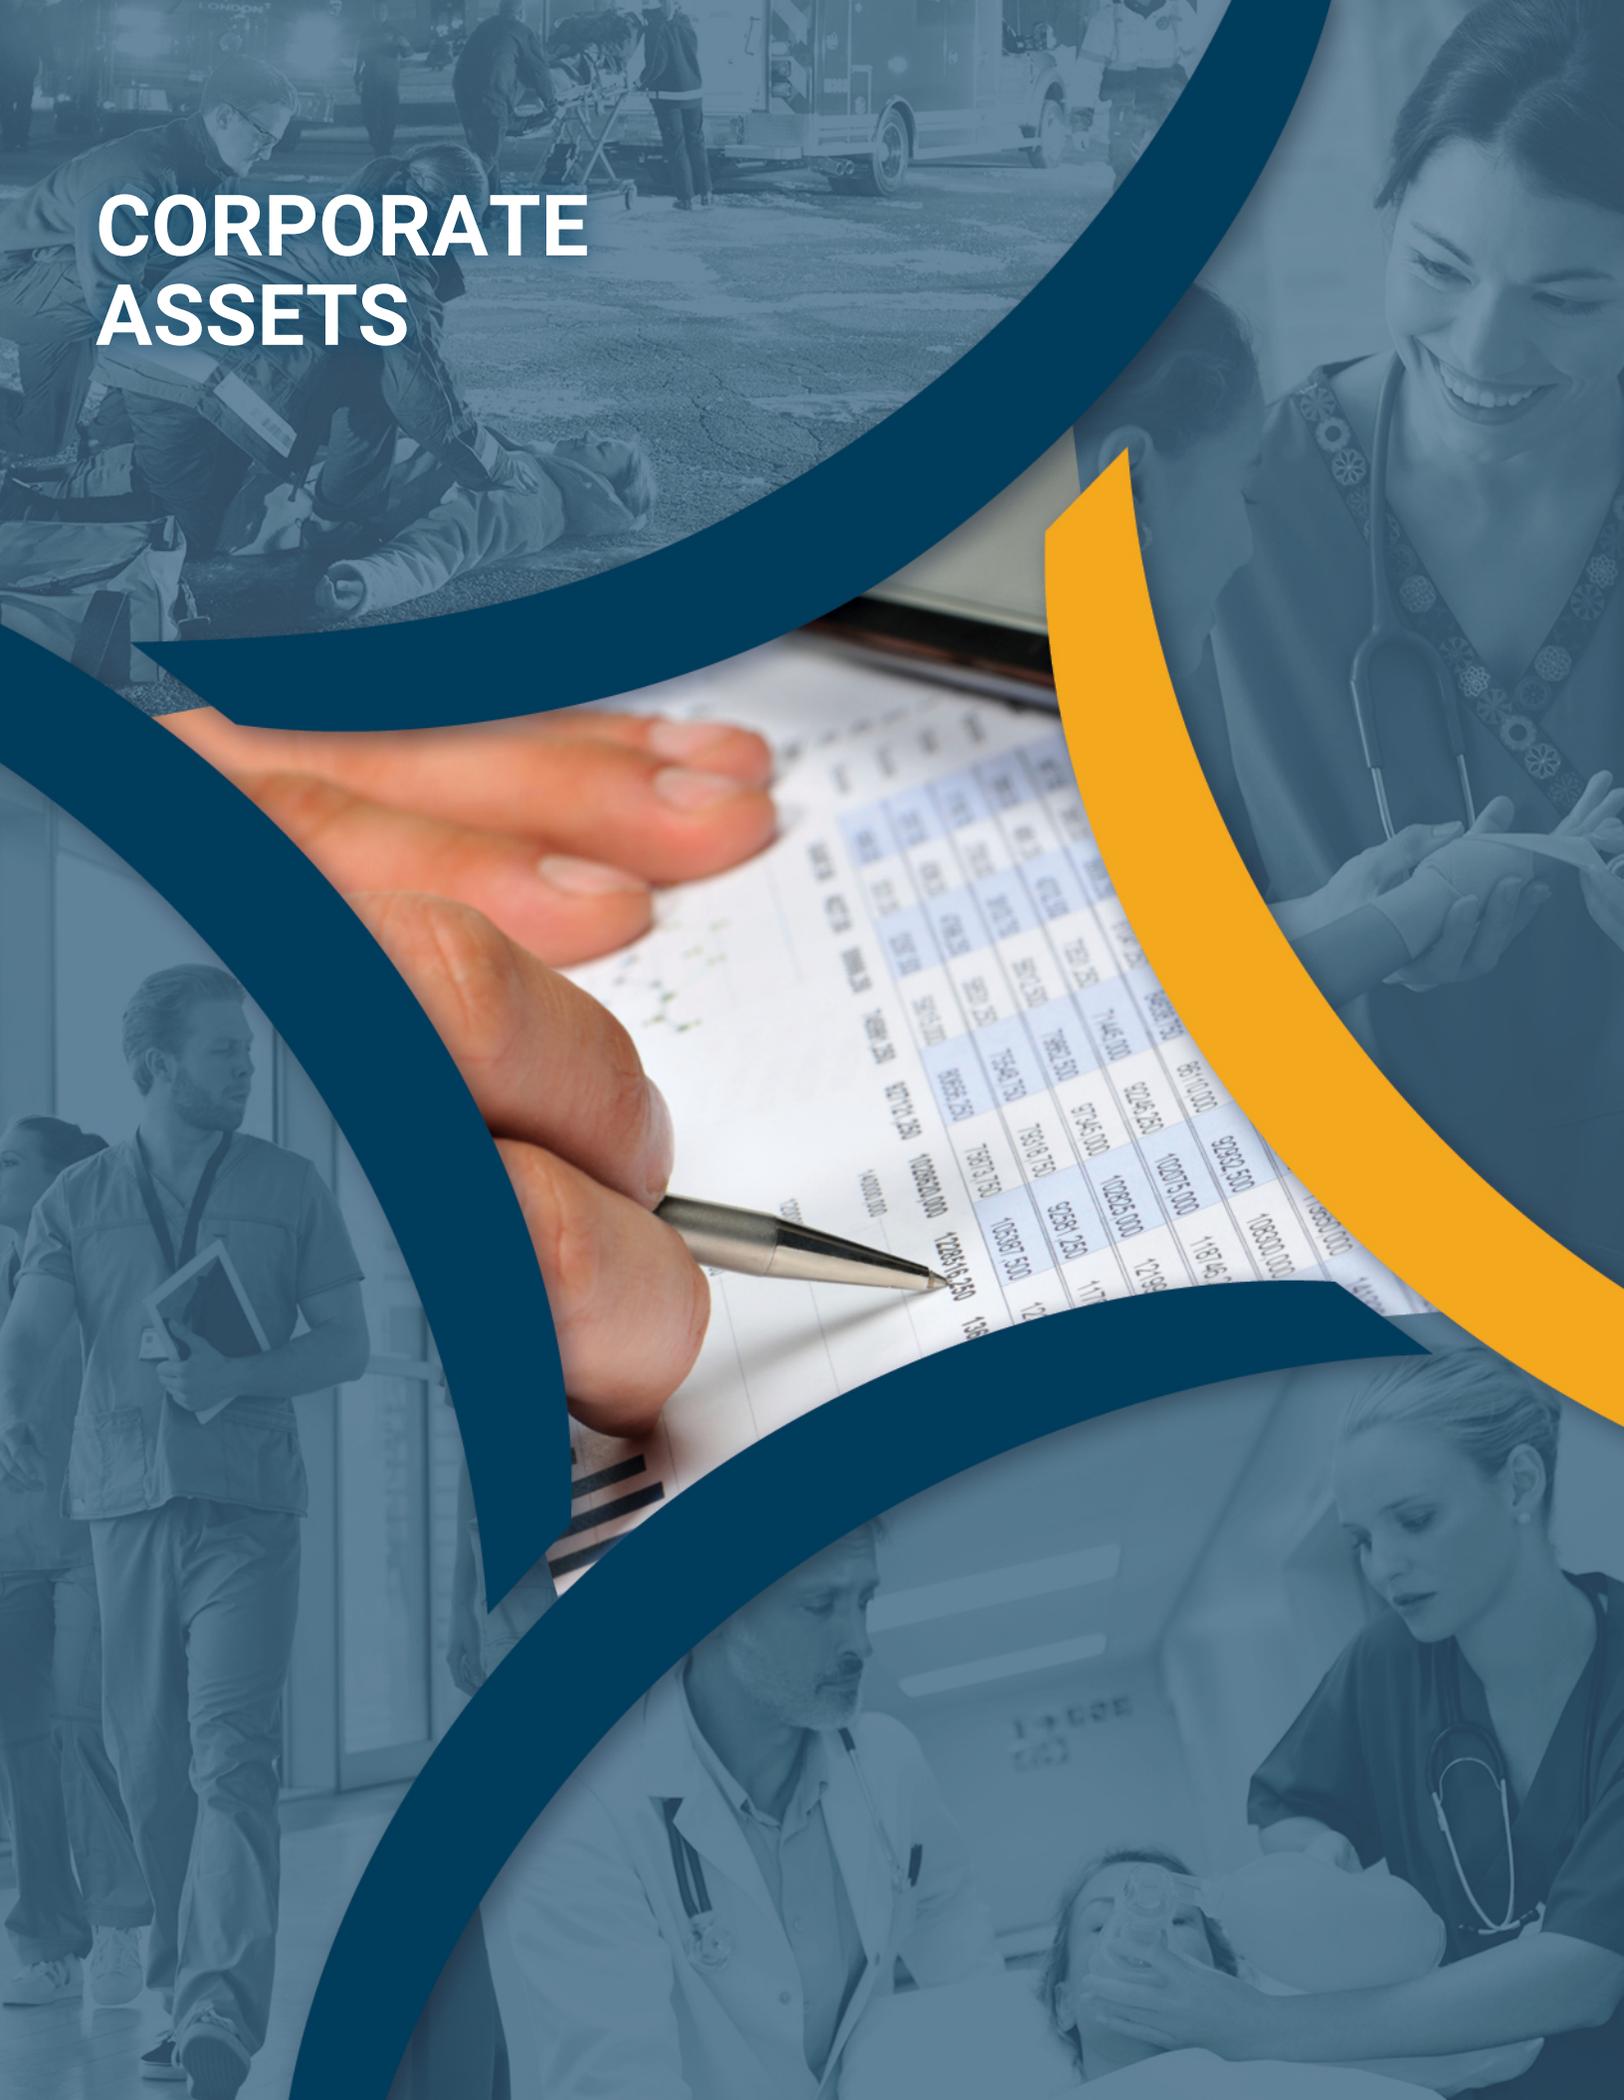

IMPORT AND EXPORT REGULATION

Sarnova aims to promote fair and safe international trade by complying with laws that regulate how, when and where we can import or export the products we sell. These complex laws often require coordination between multiple departments to properly comply with licensing, recordkeeping, embargoes and boycotts. For assistance, contact an attorney in the Legal and Regulatory department.

Why is it important to screen international orders?

- To prevent sanctioned countries, entities or persons, in particular those associated with terrorist activity, from obtaining items that could be used to help commit crimes, atrocities or other prohibited end-uses.
- To fulfill contractual agreements with our suppliers that place restrictions on how we can move products across country boundaries and may prohibit us from doing business with certain countries, companies or individuals.
- As a company headquartered in the United States, all employees, agents and subsidiaries (even if located in another country) must comply with U.S. and local trade laws.

CORPORATE ASSETS

4.1 FINANCIAL RECORDS

Timely, regular, reliable and clear information.

FINANCIAL RECORDS

REPORTS, STATEMENTS, ADJUSTMENTS

Sarnova is committed to maintaining accurate accounting records, consistent financial reports and effective internal financial control. Our accounting records and supporting documents are designed to accurately describe and reflect the true nature of our underlying transactions and conform to applicable accounting standards.

- You must never falsify or disguise transactions or records (e.g. expense reports, sales data, timesheets).
- Ensure the way you manage documents does not create security issues (e.g. sharing information with inappropriate individuals).
- Documents should be retained and/or destroyed according to internal policies or as specified by law.
- Relevant documents must be preserved if you become aware of a legal request for such documents or if a litigation hold has been issued by the legal department.
- You are expected to be familiar with the specific document retention requirements relative to your position.

Breaches of this policy should be reported to your manager, Legal or HR. Disciplinary action up to and including termination will be considered in response to all violations.

4.2 CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Proprietary information and trade secrets.

THREE TAKEAWAYS TO ENSURE INFORMATION SECURITY:

1. Properly secure, label, and (when appropriate) dispose of confidential information.
2. Safeguard confidential information that Sarnova receives from others under nondisclosure agreements.
3. Take steps to keep our trade secrets and other confidential intellectual property secret.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

A COMPANY WITHOUT CONFIDENTIALITY WILL QUICKLY BECOME A NON-PROFIT.

You should only access or disclose the company's confidential information if you are authorized to do so as part of your employment. Never exploit the confidential information of any kind for personal gain.

Sarnova will vigorously protect and considers confidential all records related to:

1. information proprietary to vendors and customers.
2. employee records (e.g., disciplinary actions, performance evaluations, personal information such as home address and telephone number, marital status, sexual orientation, number of dependents, information in personnel or medical files, etc.).
3. the contents of regular or electronic mail.
4. trade secrets and company records (e.g., policies and procedures; internal memos and communications not intended for public consumption; financial and statistical information and records; business plans; marketing plans; any information covered under the HIPAA regulations).

You also have a duty to respect the confidential information of our competitors. Do not use confidential information relating to other organizations, if there is a reason to believe it was obtained improperly.

4.3 SOCIAL MEDIA AND ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION

Exercise caution.

E-MAIL, TEXTS, FACEBOOK, SKYPE, ETC.

Generally, all electronic communications while at work should be limited to the scope of your position. However, we recognize some personal use may be necessary. Personal electronic communications using company devices should be limited and must not interfere with your daily responsibilities or productivity while at work.

When you use electronic communication devices, communicate over electronic networks or discuss company subject matter, you must comply with the all the other sections of this code of conduct. This expectation applies whether you are working in the office or remotely. Such communications are to remain respectful, responsible and professional in tone so as to not violate this code and all applicable policies.

You are strictly prohibited from transmitting, viewing, generating, printing, retrieving, downloading or storing any communication of a discriminatory, defamatory, obscene, damaging (such as viruses or spamware), threatening or harassing nature, or any material that is inappropriate for the business environment (such as sexually oriented pictures, or unproductive rumors).

Finally, unless you are authorized to do so, you may not publicly comment, post or speak using social media or other electronic communication on behalf of Sarnova or any of its subsidiaries, or disclose confidential, proprietary, restricted, internal or personal information that is not publicly known.

- We do not tolerate physical violence, threats of violence, or physical, sexual, psychological or verbal harassment or maltreatment in the workplace or work-related situations.
- We will take appropriate preventative steps to reduce the threat of physical harm.

For these important reasons, we will continue to operate our business in a transparent and trustworthy way because our people are our greatest resource.

It is therefore our vision to have all employees and facilities working and operating in an environmentally sustainable manner. To accomplish this goal, Sarnova strives to minimize the impacts of our business on the Environment by optimizing energy usage, reducing waste generation and promoting recycling.

5.5 SUPPLY CHAIN SUSTAINABILITY

Shared values for a better tomorrow.

SUPPLY CHAIN SUSTAINABILITY

ADVANCE RESPONSIBLE CORPORATE CITIZENSHIP AND UNIVERSAL SOCIAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL PRINCIPLES.

Being able to provide quality products in a timely fashion to customers is critical to helping save and improve patients' lives. In order to meet this objective, Sarnova recognizes the importance of taking a holistic approach to managing its supply chain. Sarnova's strategy is premised on the following principles:
